

Common tasks performed by Spontaneous Emergency Volunteers (non-frontline community volunteers)

Volunteering WA's Report identifies common tasks performed by non-frontline community volunteers (spontaneous emergency volunteers) throughout the stages of a emergencies. Organisations that want to plan to engage with spontaneous volunteers (SV) can use this information to segment tasks that are most suitable for emergency support volunteers.

Tasks	Risks	Comments	SV coordinator
Distribution of information	Low to medium	Any training required?
Supporting logistics	moderate

Volunteering WA is the peak body for volunteering in Western Australia. During the recovery and response phases of an emergency, Volunteering WA helps connect members of the community who want to help, with community organisations who need additional support. www.volunteeringwa.org.au

This information sheet is an excerpt from Volunteering WA's 'Spontaneous volunteer engagement in recent emergencies in WA' Report 2024